To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Mathys van Heerden, who completed his internship at EPI-USE. Throughout his time with us, Mathys consistently demonstrated professionalism, dedication, and a strong aptitude for learning and applying new concepts.

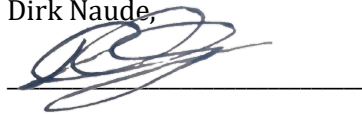

He helped with contributions to projects and showed a solid understanding of technical principles. Mathys approached tasks with care and attention to detail, and his collaborative attitude made him a valued member of the team.

Mathys was receptive to feedback and showed a genuine interest in growing his skills and contributing meaningfully to the team's objectives. His positive attitude and willingness to engage with complex challenges were commendable.

I believe Mathys has the potential to thrive in a professional environment and would be a valuable addition to any organization. I recommend him with confidence and wish him all the best in his future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Dirk Naude,
